

Posted on November 14, 2022

One of our residents at Woodstock Residential Care Home likes to run her own art and craft session with the support of our staff. Last week we decided to use charcoal – this is a great way to use different skills in drawing, shading and blending techniques.

Joan chose flowers as our props to draw on the day; our residents found this a very relaxing session and it brought out everyone's creative side.