Our residents at Woodstock Residential Care Home love to watch the birds in our garden and are keen bird watchers.

We have put bird boxes on the windows of those residents who stay in their rooms so they can enjoy the birds as well. These boxes are a great way to watch the wildlife from the comfort of indoors.

One of our residents, Arthur, loves to watch the birds and can name them all! We put a bird species poster up on his wall so he can tell us which birds have visited him.

Roll on the springtime and better weather, so we can enjoy even more activity!
