On Wednesday 22 August, we ran a rock painting session for our residents at Woodstock Residential Care Home.

Rock painting has always been a very popular activity here at Woodstock and our residents' relatives have been asking us to paint some more rocks, as they love hiding them in our local area for eager rock hunters to find!

Our ladies at Woodstock loved painting their rocks in vibrant colours. It is such a relaxing and rewarding activity, and the finished pieces are beautiful.

We put the completed rocks in our Reception area for visiting relatives to take and hide for us. It's a really creative way to be part of our local community.
